CONTENTS

1. General Introduction ........................................................................................................... 9

2. The Association Between Major Depressive Disorder and Heart Rate Variability in the Netherlands Study of Depression and Anxiety (NESDA) __________ 29

3. The Association between Anxiety Disorders and Heart Rate Variability in the Netherlands Study of Depression and Anxiety (NESDA) __________ 51

4. Longitudinal Evidence of Unfavourable Effects of Antidepressant Use on Heart Rate Variability .......................................................... 77

5. Depression Is Associated With Decreased Blood Pressure but Antidepressant Use Increases the Risk for Hypertension _________________ 97

6. Cardiac Sympathetic Control in Depressive and Anxiety Disorder: an Important Role for Antidepressants ____________________________ 117

7. Increased Sympathetic and Decreased Parasympathetic Activity Rather Than Changes in Hypothalamic-Pituitary-Adrenal-Axis Activity Are Associated With Metabolic Abnormalities______________________________ 133

8. General Discussion ............................................................................................................. 153

Samenvatting ......................................................................................................................... 175

Dankwoord .......................................................................................................................... 185

Biografie/Biography ............................................................................................................. 191

List of Publications ............................................................................................................... 197