Content

Introduction 6

Chapter 1
How reliable is your hospital? 12
A qualitative framework for analyzing reliability levels

Chapter 2
Improving the quality of emergency medicine care by developing a quality requirement framework: 24
A study from The Netherlands

Chapter 3
Dutch health care reform: did it result in better patient experiences in hospitals? 38
A comparison of the Consumer Quality Index over time

Chapter 4
The first effects of Dutch health care reform on hospitals 50

Chapter 5
The use of quality information by general practitioners: does it alter choices? 64
A randomized clustered study

Chapter 6
Does value-based competition improve value? 76
Evidence from the Dutch health care reform

Chapter 7
A new approach to the trade-off between quality and accessibility of health care 92

Chapter 8
Modeling hospital infrastructure by optimizing quality, accessibility and efficiency via a Mixed Integer Programming model 104

Discussion 120

Summary 128

Samenvatting 130

Publicaties 132

About the author 134