Contents

Chapter 1 General introduction 7

Chapter 2 ‘From activating towards caring’: shifts in care approaches at the end of life of people with intellectual disabilities; a qualitative study of the perspectives of relatives, care-staff and physicians 21

Chapter 3 Perspectives of people with mild intellectual disabilities on care relationships at the end of life. A group interview study 47

Chapter 4 Respecting autonomy in the end-of-life care of people with intellectual disabilities: a qualitative multiple-case study 69

Chapter 5 ‘To move or not to move’: a national survey among professionals on beliefs and considerations about the place of end-of-life care for people with intellectual disabilities 93

Chapter 6 Decision making about medical interventions in the end-of-life care of people with intellectual disabilities: A national survey of the considerations and beliefs of GPs, ID physicians and care staff 115

Chapter 7 Training needs of nurses and social workers in the end-of-life care for people with intellectual disabilities: A national survey 135

Chapter 8 General discussion 157

Summary 191

Samenvatting (summary in Dutch) 199

Dankwoord (Acknowledgements) 209

List of publications 213

Curriculum Vitae 219