Table of Contents

Acknowledgements

Introduction

1 Introduction

2 Regional Identity and Heritage

2.1 Introduction
2.2 Region: A Historiography
2.3 Identity as a Metaphor
2.4 Making a Pair: Regional Identity
2.5 Heritage, History and Memory
2.6 Sources, Places and Fieldwork

3 Nurturing a Shared Past?

3.1 Introduction
3.2 Europe, Identity and Heritage
3.3 Europe in the Early Middle Ages
3.4 Euregio Meuse-Rhine: A Fragmented Former Centre of Power
3.5 Alsace: Early Medieval Heritage in a Former European Battlefield Region
3.6 Conclusions

4 Battlefield of Histories:

4.1 Introduction
4.2 Histories in the Arnhem Nijmegen Region
4.3 Branding Histories in a New and Dynamic Region
4.4 Romans and Franks against the Allied Forces
4.5 Conclusions

5 Dynamics of Memory in the Post-Carbon Era:

5.1 Introduction
5.2 Montanara, Zechensterben and Strukturwandel
5.3 The Birth of Industriekultur
5.4 The Museum Boom and Industrial Heritage as a Regional Icon
5.5 Kultur durch Wandel, Wandel durch Kultur
5.6 Conclusions

6 Epilogue

Sources

Figures, Maps and Tables

Summary

Summary in Dutch

Colophon