Table of contents

Acknowledgements
Introduction: Researching inclusion
Chapter 1: Reviving agency: Taking time and making space for rethinking diversity and inclusion
Chapter 2: The role of immigrant organisations in the transforming welfare state: Revealing blind spots in the Netherlands
Chapter 3: Reframing cooperation: Challenges in overcoming tensions between professional services and volunteer organizations providing parenting support in immigrant communities
Chapter 4: Windows of understanding: Broadening access to knowledge production through participatory action research
Chapter 5: Social science as direction indicator. The role of the researcher in an improvising society
Conclusion: Enabling inclusion by creating discursive space
Summary
Samenvatting
List of figures

Figure 1: The project Disclosing Cooperation 21

Figure 2: Two dimensions for evaluating the social contribution of voluntary organisations. 53

Figure 3: Two-dimensional perspective for evaluating the social contribution of immigrant organisations. 61