Claudia Buntrock was born in Aachen (Germany) on March 31 1987. She completed her pre-university education (Abitur) at “Städtisches Gymnasium” in Baesweiler (Germany) in 2006. From 2006 to 2009, she studied European Public Health at Maastricht University. In 2009, she started her Master programme in Health Science Research with specialisation in Health Technology Assessment also at Maastricht University. Besides health-economic evaluations, her interests focus on depression prevention and e-mental health. Thus, after finishing her studies in 2011, she started her PhD research at the Leuphana University in Lüneburg within an EU funded project (Innovation Incubator). As part of her binational PhD programme, she joined the Department of Clinical Psychology at the VU University Amsterdam in 2015. She has published papers in JAMA and Psychotherapy & Psychosomatics, among others, and she has presented her work at international conferences in Berlin (ISR11), Linköping (ESR11) and Bergen (Global Consortium for Depression Prevention). The German Psychological Association (DGPs, Section Clinical Psychology and Psychotherapy) has recently awarded Claudia with the Junior Research Award 2017 for her exceptional work. She is now an Associate Editor of Trials and is currently working as a post-doctoral researcher at the Friedrich-Alexander University Erlangen-Nuremberg (Germany).
